

34 Criminal Matters Disposed Of At This County Court Term

Seven additional pleas were received Wednesday afternoon in county court and defendants were sentenced by Judge Traver. The men who entered pleas were seven of the negroes who were arrested last November in the lower section of the city on charges of violation of the "dope" law. The men were held after a hearing in city court for the action of the grand jury and last December indictments were found and pleas of not guilty were entered. In six of the cases Robert J. Howard appeared and Palmer A. Canfield, Jr., appeared in two other cases. One of the cases it is expected will go to trial, perhaps not at this term of court for Mr. Canfield has asked that he be given time to secure witnesses. The case which perhaps will be tried in that of The People vs. Robert Roy Brown.

The seven negroes who decided to plead guilty to violations of the narcotic law were given four months sentences in the county jail. They were: Henry Morton, William Pritchard, Lawrence Brown alias Fred Booker, Emanuel Nicholson, Arthur Jackson, Albert Snyder and James Landaway. Mr. Howard represented six of the defendants and Nicholson was not represented by counsel although it had previously been announced that he would be represented by Mr. Canfield.

Thirty-four criminal matters have been disposed of at the present term. Several defendants were indicted on more than one charge and in disposing of such defendants several indictments were disposed of at one time. There were seven charges against Charles Keyer, Kerchonsk fire bug who was sentenced to 15 years at Clinton State Prison. Six indictments were recorded against John LaVelle who was also sentenced to Clinton State Prison. The men charged with possession of narcotics were, faced with at least two indictments each and a couple of other defendants faced double charges. In all, sixteen defendants have faced the court and received sentences. Only one case resulted in a trial, that of Richard Henson who was found guilty and sentenced to Clinton State Prison for the burning of the Gormley boarding house west of Phoenix.

Democrats Planning 'New Deal' for Women

Miami, Fla., Feb. 9 (AP)—The plans of the new Democratic administration to give "a new deal" for women in the government service, bring two names prominently into the picture—Miss Frances Perkins of New York, for secretary of labor, and Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen of Florida, for minister to Denmark.

The state seems to be fixed for these two women in these posts. Each appointment will be precedent-making. No woman has ever served in the cabinet. None has ever received formal appointment to a high diplomatic office.

Mrs. Owen is the daughter of the late William Jennings Bryan who three times led the cause of democracy in the presidential campaigns. She is completing her service in the house. She was defeated for re-nomination in the last election.

Miss Perkins is the New York Commissioner of labor and her selection by Mr. Roosevelt for the cabinet post as secretary of labor is regarded as a certainty.

The roll of women under serious consideration for other important offices in the new government includes almost a score of prominent workers.

There is Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, former governor of Wyoming, who is mentioned for the civil service commission, and also Mrs. Stanley V. Hodges of Minnesota, who is talked of for postmaster for Minnesota, or for collector of internal revenue.

James A. Farley, the national chairman, who is busy here compiling the tentative state of appointments to the vast federal machine, has made a promise that women shall receive greater consideration.

His list is understood to include the following for various appointments: Mrs. Emily Newell Blair, of Missouri; Mrs. Emily Gaffey Miller, of Pittsburgh; Mrs. Caroline M. O'Day of Ky.; Mrs. Ethel Childress, national committeewoman for Tennessee; and Mrs. Benton McMillin of Tennessee; Mrs. John C. Greenway, of Tucson, Ariz.; Mrs. Sam Connor of Bardonia, N.Y.; Mrs. J. C. Buccich, of Fairmont, West Va.; Miss Mance Langley, of Forest Grove, Oregon; and Mrs. Jean Whitmore of Porto Rico.

Galeworthy Memorial Service. London, Feb. 9 (AP)—Statesmen, peers, diplomats, novelists, poets and hundreds of the late John Galeworthy readers paid homage to the memory of the great novelist in a brief and simple memorial service in Westminster Abbey today. The service was conducted by Dean Foxley Norris. Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald arrived with Sir James Barrie to find the Abbey so filled with the novelists' admirers that many were forced to stand throughout the service.

Krom's Car Hit Gates. While Charles Krom of 62 Cedar street was driving his car on Broadway Wednesday night the car skidded into the lower West Shore crossing gates, breaking off the end of one of the gates.

Lecturer's Program And Speech Feature Granger's Meeting

General, N. Y., Feb. 9 (AP)—An extensive lecturer's program, led by National Lecturer James Farmer of South Newbury, N. H., and an address by Louis J. Taber, master of the National Grange, were scheduled as features of today's session of the 60th annual meeting of the New York State Grange.

Not only the farmer but national life is at the cross roads, with chaos awaiting a wrong choice of roads, Mr. Taber said in his message to the delegates.

"The action we take in the months and years just ahead will determine the future well-being of our nation," he said. "We must find a solution to low prices, high taxes, farm foreclosures and crushing debt burdens, or chaos awaits us. In finding this solution we must keep on the path of genuine Americanism."

Mr. Taber warned against attempting to find a solution for the economic situation by following the line of least resistance, attempting unsound programs or imitating experiments being tried elsewhere in the world.

"We must lift commodity prices," said the national master. "We must reduce interest charges, stop farm foreclosures, provide an ample reservoir of credit to give stability to home values and give to the men and women of rural America a fighting chance to hold their farms and homes. These things must be done to avoid the most serious consequences in our national history."

The delegates today had before them for consideration and debate more than 150 resolutions overwhelmingly favoring reduction of taxes and costs to farmers and opposing repeal of the 18th amendment or a change in the Volstead Act.

Reduction of automobile license fees for farm vehicles and relief of real estate from "crushing and unfair" taxation were asked in more than a score.

Prize speakers announced last night included Douglas O. Waite, student in the New York State School of Agriculture at Cobleskill, first; Victor Studinoff, student in the State School of Agriculture at Farmingdale, L. I., second; and Robert Clegg, student in the State School of Agriculture at Canton, third.

Inez, Ky., Feb. 9 (AP)—Praying in a guttural, unearthly chant for deliverance, eight members of a mountain family are in jail today, seven charged with murder following the cult "sacrifice" of an aged woman.

Police said they crashed their way through barred doors into the desolate Mills homestead as plans were made to place the body of Mrs. Lucinda Mills, 72, on an altar.

Interrupting the haunting ritual of fasting and mystic rites, which police say started last Friday, culminating in a mad frenzy of ardor, the officers arrested two daughters, two sons, a grandson, and two sons-in-law and a daughter-in-law of the slain woman.

The prisoners, held in the Martin county jail here, are John Mills, 36, and Fred, 34, sons of the woman; Ballard, a 26 year old grandson; Blaine McGinnis and Tom Boyd, sons-in-law; Mrs. Nellie McGinnis and Ora Mills, daughters, and Mrs. John H. Mills, the daughter-in-law.

Tom Boyd is held as a material witness, the officers said, adding that the remaining seven are charged with murder.

An inquest conducted by Judge T. J. Hardin brought a verdict that Mrs. Mills died "at the hands of her son, John, and others."

Questioned at the jail, members of the family told police that hours of praying, shouting, singing and dancing—a part of the bizarre ceremony—called forth "divine commands" that the life of one person present be offered in "human sacrifice."

Mrs. Mills was chosen, they said, and John, grasped his mother by the neck as the others looked on.

Blaine McGinnis told authorities he wanted to prevent the "sacrifice," but that "a feeling" impelled him to stand back.

Seize Wet Goods On Baessler Premises

For the third time in less than a year officers from the Kingston prohibition office seized large quantities of alleged illegal liquors on the premises occupied by Anton Baessler in Kerhonkson.

The goods were discovered by officers conducting an investigation of the Baessler premises, under direction of District Attorney Murray, as part of the investigation into the murder of Uriah Quick at Leibhardt.

Baessler, Michael Connors of Stamford and Mrs. Mary Fish of Kingston were arrested on January 25, following the discovery of Quick's body at Leibhardt, and are being held at the Ulster county jail.

The wet goods seized at the Baessler place Wednesday were alleged as follows at the prohibition office: 634 pint bottles of home brew, 5 gallons of home brew, 1 gallon kumel, 21 gallons wine, 3 gallons kumel, 60 gallons hard cider, 1 quart vermouth, 1 quart creme de menthe, 1 pint champagne.

Barter Methods In New York State

Unemployed Turn to Increasing Numbers to Each Other for Mutual Assistance Since Beginning of Year.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 9 (AP)—Idle hands are turning to barter methods in New York State.

Offering to exchange property for food and services for shelter, men and women affected by the unemployment situation have turned in increasing numbers to each other for mutual assistance since the beginning of 1933.

At Harrison, a dentist is offering to repair the teeth of any experienced mechanic who will work on his automobile.

At Canandaigua, merchants are planning to exchange commodities for produce brought in by farmers. Various informal barter systems are in operation in other communities.

Although organized exchanges have appeared only at a few points, newspaper advertisements under the heading "swap" testify to the prevalence of individual bartering.

One weekly newspaper, the Harrison Citizen-Observer, published by J. Noel Macy and edited by Richard K. Bard, has inaugurated its own temporary barter plan, setting aside a "labor exchange" column for use of its readers.

"Painter will exchange work for radio," reads one item. "Couple, chauffeur and waitress (English well recommended) will exchange their services for coal range," reads another. "Tailor will repair and press clothing in exchange for garments for his wife and daughter." "Gardener with landscaping experience willing to exchange services for wood, coal or food."

At Albany 50 unemployed have organized a "mutual exchange." A young Rochester man conducts his own barter service. Syracuse is organizing an agency to assist in bartering.

A minister at Lyons Falls, the Rev. Tracy Spencer, has agreed to function as a clearing house for barter information. Lists of goods offered for exchange will be posted daily.

Canandaigua has set aside quarters where farmers and merchants can meet for barter on February 19 and 21.

Scrip is being used to limited extent in the Albany plan. Chatham is using scrip to pay for unemployment relief work. A proposal for use of scrip was rejected by merchants of Hoosick Falls.

COUNTY LIQUOR CONTROL BOARDS PROVIDED IN BILL

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 9 (AP)—County liquor control boards to determine who could sell beer and liquor in the county are provided in a bill prepared for introduction by State Senator Joseph Esquirol, Brooklyn Democrat.

The board would consist of a clergyman, a physician or chemist, lawyer, merchant, educator, social service worker and a farmer or realtor. Licenses would be issued on the basis of each 2,000 inhabitants. A beer license would be $1,000; a liquor license $2,000; a store license $1,000 and a property license $500. The bill provides for a 10 p. m. closing hour.

Provision is made for reviving the old local option law, calling for a two-thirds vote to outlaw alcoholic beverages once they are admitted. Cities of first and second class would determine their own local option problems.

PLAN TO USE NEW KIND OF GAS IN STATE PRISONS

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 9 (AP)—In a move to make New York state prisons more secure, the Department of Correction is planning to supply the institutions with a new kind of gas, to patrol the area outside the walls with mounted guards and to increase the number of police dogs in use. Dr. Vernon C. Branham, deputy commissioner of correction, said today.

The new gas, which will be a combination of tear gas and gas not in use, will be a nauseating gas. Thrown in hand grenades and riot guns, it will cause vomiting and nausea without injury to the prisoners.

ACTOR AND PREACHER AT ST. JAMES CHURCH FRIDAY

James Alter, a well known young character actor and preacher, will offer two of his solo interpretations, "The Ten Commandments" and "Ten Nights in a Bar Room" at St. James M. E. Church on Friday evening at 7:45 o'clock. In the first presentation he will portray the characters of Moses, Joshua, Josiah, and Belshazzar, through the use of make-up and costume. C. L. Sherman of Lawrence street, this city, is managing Mr. Alter's fourth annual tour, and will be here with Mr. Alter on Friday.

Ambulance Calls Here. Wednesday the ambulance removed Robert R. Redie from the Benedictine Hospital to his home 83 Albany avenue, and Mrs. William Rice, Jr., from the Kingston Hospital to her home 141 Pine Grove avenue.

Blizzards And Cold Wave Grip Nation As Spring Hits Alaska

(By The Associated Press)

Winter's icy front advanced to the Atlantic seaboard today, transforming spring-like weather into a frigid blast.

Stern warnings were displayed along the Atlantic coast all the way from Jacksonville, Fla., to Eastport, Me., as the east prepared to resist the effects of advancing storms, which brought intense suffering in the west, midwest, and southern sections.

A blizzard was raging in the White Mountains of New Hampshire where the mercury sank 28 degrees within a few hours to below the zero and the barometer dropped under the lowest pressure ever recorded in the history of the Mount Washington observatory.

Strong winds were whipping snow about the mountains in Maryland. It was zero in the western half of the state, with a steady drop underway. Philadelphia reported a 34 degree fall in temperature in eight hours, with a 46-mile an hour wind. Between mid-afternoon and 8 p. m. yesterday there was a 40-degree decline in New York city.

Intense suffering among the destitute gave relief agencies new problems in western Pennsylvania. Snow choked many highways and air traffic was paralyzed.

Meanwhile there was no let up and none in sight for the mid-west and west. Chicago had 12 below early this morning and figured on 15 before sunset.

Five deaths were registered in Oklahoma, two in Texas and Oregon, and one in Kansas. But in the interior of Alaska residents were enjoying springlike weather, with 28 above zero.

Heavy Snowfall In Upstate New York

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 9 (AP)—City and country communities of upstate New York today were busy with snowplows and scrapers digging themselves out of the worst snow storm of the winter.

The howling blizzard that spread destruction and disorder across the plains states reached New York yesterday and today continued to grip the state. Traffic in Buffalo was having trouble with snow driven before a biting wind. The forecast for east and west New York was continued zero weather tonight and tomorrow.

Owl's Head in Franklin county had a temperature of 28 below and Saranac Lake reported 24 below, a drop of 58 degrees in 24 hours. The snowfall in the Adirondack region was light.

The snowfall was the heaviest in western New York. Jamestown, Buffalo and Rochester reporting that county highway workers had difficulty in keeping secondary highways open. Rochester and Syracuse had two to six inch snowfalls with temperatures of 4 below.

City Escaped Big Blizzard

Kingston so far has escaped the big blizzard that had been promised by the weather man although a sudden drop in temperature early yesterday shivered Wednesday night and this morning. Snow began falling Wednesday night, but was preceded by bursts of rain followed by hail. The storm swept over Kingston on the wings of a heavy wind that howled through the streets, leaving the streets a glare of ice.

When householders awoke this morning it was to find the ground hidden under a covering of ice and snow. In fact it was almost impossible to clear the sidewalks owing to the ice. Auto drivers or at least many of them before venturing out took the precaution of installing chains on the wheels.

The roads and hills were a glare of ice, and even with chains a car would slide. As a result every one drove more carefully than usual. The board of public works sanded some of the hills but at noon there were still some dangerous hills that had not been touched. Many of the hills were reported slippery to the police department who in turn notified the board of public works.

Fire Wednesday On Hasbrouck Ave.

Broke Out in Warehouse of Gollup's Grocery Store and Communicated to Store and Another Dwelling—Firemen Fought Fire Against High Wind.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Gollup, who conduct a grocery store at 187 Hasbrouck avenue, were entertaining a few neighbors at luncheon in their grocery store Wednesday evening when Mr. Gollup happened to glance out of the window about 11 o'clock and saw fire in the one-story frame building adjoining the grocery store which he used as a warehouse for his stock of groceries.

An alarm of fire was turned in from box 44 to which the fire department responded. At the time the streets were a glare of ice and a heavy wind howled through the streets. The fire, of unknown origin, had started in the corner of the warehouse adjoining the two-story frame dwelling of Mrs. Lena Bernman, and occupied by her family on the second floor and by Lillian Colburn, a cripple, on the first floor, who was carried out by neighbors from the burning house.

The fire broke out of the warehouse and communicated to the Bernman dwelling and burned up the side and entered through a window on the second floor and burned up to the roof.

At the same time the fire spread in the opposite direction and crept into the combined grocery and dwelling of the Gollups entering by a window on the first floor and a window on the second floor and burned part of the cornice and roof. The grocery and dwelling is a two-story brick building.

The high wind made the fire a difficult one to fight. The warehouse made a roaring blaze with its frame construction and stock of groceries, and also by the fact that there was a kerosene oil tank in the building. The tank did not explode but the contents burned adding fuel to the flames.

Fire Chief Murphy stated that the loss is covered by insurance.

POSSIBILITY OF SEA BATTLE WITH MUTINEERS

Batavia, Java, Feb. 8 (AP)—Possibilities of a sea battle were envisaged within comparatively few hours today between the mutineers in control of the cruiser De Zeven Provinciën and Dutch naval and air forces. The latter were converging on the mutineers who are steering a defiant course in the Indian Ocean along the coast of Sumatra.

The native Malay mutineers renewed an offer of conditional surrender which was spurned by the naval authorities, who demand immediate unconditional capitulation and declare they will open fire if the rebels resist.

The navy department indicated today a belief that mutineers' game was almost up and it was believed here decisive action would occur today or tomorrow. The department's statement said it was determined from the very first that the vessel should be treated exclusively as a mutinous man-of-war.

CUBAN EXILES MAY BE BREWING TROUBLE

Havana, Cuba, Feb. 9 (AP)—Confidential government sources today admitted they had reason to believe "something big" is brewing among Cuban exiles in the United States and Central American nations.

The "something big" these sources expected, would take the form of an expedition from Mexico or Honduras to touch off the long predicted second revolution against President Gerardo Machado's government.

An attempt to overthrow his regime in August 1931, was cleaned up by Machado's army of some 12,000 men and resulted in the flight of former President Mario G. Menocal, now directing activities of Cuban exiles in Miami.

Six-Point Program For Recovery at Conference

New Hope for Return to Prosperity Expressed by All Nations—World Economic Conference Will Be Held at Earliest Possible Moment—English-American Debt Problem to Precede Conference.

WHAT NATIONS HOPE FOR IN WORLD ECONOMIC MEETING

(By The Associated Press)

Here is what the nations of the world hope to obtain from the first world economic conference ever held, which is to take place next summer in London:

The United States desires a concentrated drive to lower international trade barriers that world commerce may be revived.

Great Britain looks for a new world economic structure on the basis of the pending debts negotiations with the United States.

France hopes for currency stabilization and the return of Britain to the gold standard.

Germany desires solution of the world economic and financial problems through international cooperation.

Italy advocates a new "Economic League of Nations."

Russia hopes for a pact of economic non-aggression.

The small nations of Central Europe, convinced that the problem of recovery is one for the great powers to solve, hope that the great powers will get about it and that their efforts will be successful in order that the countries of the Danube may enjoy reflected prosperity.

Claim Delaney Had Counterfeit Bill

Used It to Obtain New License Plates for His Car—Delaney Claimed He Did Not Know Bill Was Bad—Hearing Adjourned—Blanchan Case Adjourned.

Wednesday afternoon Wilber Delaney of 20 Ann street called at the motor vehicle bureau on Fair street and obtained new 1933 license plates for his car for which he tendered in payment a $20 bill. Later, after Delaney had left it was found that the bureau had a counterfeit bill in its possession.

Still later Delaney was arrested by the police on a charge of having a counterfeit Federal Reserve note for $20. The bill bears the number B39052136A.

This morning the case came up for a hearing in police court before Judge Culliton at which time it was adjourned to Saturday morning to give Delaney an opportunity to retain a lawyer if he desired, or secure any witnesses he desired.

Delaney asked the court if there was any chance of locating the one who had passed the counterfeit bill on his wife. According to Delaney's story his wife had been given the bill for some work she had done about two months ago, but they had not used the money until it was decided to get new plates for their car.

Judge Culliton advised Delaney to take the matter up with the police and furnish them with the information and action would follow.

Blanchan Case Adjourned

This morning when the case of Edwin Blanchan of Oak street was called he was represented by Attorney Lloyd LeFevre. Blanchan was arrested Wednesday by William Faberman of St. James street who charged him with disorderly conduct.

Mr. Faberman when he saw Blanchan had a lawyer informed the court he desired to engage a lawyer too and for that reason the hearing was adjourned to February 16. All of the witnesses who had been called were notified to appear in court at that time.

Mollison Starts on Flight to Brazil

Thies, Senegal, Feb. 9 (AP)—Capt. James A. Mollison, noted British flier, started unexpectedly at 12:59 a. m. today on his projected 2,000-mile flight across the South Atlantic to Natal, Brazil.

Captain Mollison took off nine hours ahead of the time he had previously set for his departure owing to satisfactory conditions. The only man to fly solo westerly across the North Atlantic took off from Lympne, England, early Monday and reached here after four stops in Europe and Africa.

He attempted to take off here at 6:55 p. m. yesterday, but conditions were bad.

A small fast mail boat was along his transatlantic route, at 7 degrees, 37 minutes, north, 23 degrees, 36 minutes, west, watching for him in case of accident.

London, Feb. 9 (AP) Roused to New Hope for the Return of Prosperity

the nations of the world have been roused by Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald that the world economic conference will be held at the earliest possible moment.

A survey by Associated Press correspondents stationed in the various European capitals, shows that the conference preparatory commission, with its work just completed, has focused attention on a six-point program for recovery.

League of Nations officials already have arrived in London to discuss conference arrangements with the British government. That Mr. MacDonald will preside over the first assembly of its kind in history, with the sessions starting in July in Old St. James's Palace, is likely unless a new and unexpected move is made to shift the conference to Washington.

The world economic conference will bring to London from more than fifty nations a host of famous men and women, not only bankers, scholars, high-level economists and world-famous financiers, but also picturesque national figures.

Adolf Hitler, who sits in the chair of Bismarck, will come for the ceremonial opening, according to word from Berlin, but there is not much prospect of a general meeting of dictators. Joseph V. Stalin and Benito Mussolini will assign the Russian and Italian interests to special envoys.

Has Six Headings

It will be Mr. MacDonald's task to put the delegates face to face with the troubles of the world as catalogued by the preparatory experts under six formidable headings as follows:

1. Monetary and credit policy.
2. Prices.
3. Resumption of the movement of capital.
4. Restrictions on international trade.
5. Tariff and treaty policy.
6. Organization of production and trade.

These cover the whole range of complex problems from the gold standard, silver questions and trade barriers to river and land transport and what is to be done for farmers the world over.

As yet individual countries have made only preliminary plans but they reflect the trend of national hopes.

To Britain as the host, the world economic conference means an opportunity for building a new world economic structure on the cornerstone of the Anglo-American debt conference in Washington next month. War debts are not the cause of all the world's ills, but they are the key to recovery, according to the British views, which makes their satisfactory and final settlement all the more essential if the world economic conference is to be successful.

Britain considers that she is taking the world view in the present crisis and accepts the opinion of experts that the gold standard provides the only practicable international monetary system. But she insists that definite conditions of world recovery must be fulfilled before British returns to gold.

France will stand shoulder to shoulder with the United States urging that British return to the gold standard, and will espouse a currency stabilization fund to enable the recovery of central European countries as outlined in the recent conference at Stresa, Italy.

Public Works Program

France also will advocate a public works program and milk tariff reform looking toward general world recovery. The French premier—at present Edouard Daladier—will head an important delegation, including the foreign, finance and commerce ministers.

The Hitler upheaval in Germany upset all previous plans for the conference there and the new government has not outlined its policy. Dr. Alfred Hugenberg, the new minister of economics and agriculture, is likely to be the principal figure in the delegation, with Chancellor Hitler taking the spotlight at the opening and closing ceremonies.

Germany hopes to "make the conference as inclusive as possible." In the German view everything pertaining to the realm of finance and economics should find a place on the agenda so that a solution for the world's troubles can be found by international cooperation.

Although absent in person Premier Mussolini will be in the conference news by advocating through the Italian delegation a new "Economic League of Nations" as a means of overcoming the present crisis and of preventing another one like it. This idea was first presented by former corporations minister Giuseppe Bottai before the League of Nations assembly in 1931.

Italy is coming to the conference with one main point in common with the United States—stabilization of currency. Italy has suffered as the United States is suffering from an increase of inflation.

Tanning Rabbit Skin

The method of treating rabbit skins at home, so that they can be used for coat trimmings is as follows:

First remove fat and flesh from the skin, then cover the flesh side with salt and allow to stand three or four days in a fairly cool place to dry out. Make a tanning solution of 4 pounds of salt and 5 gallons of water in a wooden tub, adding carefully 2 fluid ounces of sulphuric acid. Allow the skin to remain in this for one to three weeks, then rinse and dry in a shady place. Work and stretch the skin to make it pliable and rub in a little neatfoot oil.

Ants Carry Earth to Trees

Spherical masses of earth from which various forms of vegetation grow are frequently found in the branches of tropical trees, and sometimes these reach remarkable size. They are the nests of certain species of ants that carry the earth up the trunks of the trees particle by particle. It is believed by some that the plants grow in these nests are actually planted by the ants, but this is open to doubt. Suspended masses of earth in a humid tropical forest might easily become seeded without the aid of the ants.

"CARTHAGE" OF NEW WORLD CELEBRATES

South American City Observes 400th Anniversary.

C. F. W. THURNAU

Cartagena, Colombia, S. A.—Among the oldest of modern cities, Cartagena, founded in 1533, has just entered upon the fifth century of its existence. It celebrated the event in the picturesque manner of the century with a program of festivities and an elaborate expedition designed to recall the wealth of romance and travel, which 400 years of life have brought to this "Carthage of the New World" and to portray her present-day activities in commerce, agriculture and industry.

A part of call for noted navigators of the world, from Columbus to Lindbergh, Cartagena (pronounced Kar-tah-yah-nah) evokes at every step the memory of early American history and the Spanish Main, and deluged visitors with its historic charm. Though possessing an ancient glamour second to none, Cartagena presents its strange paradox of antiquity and modernity side-by-side.

Once the chief port of the Spanish conquistadors, it was the gateway through which untold millions in gold and jewels passed from the new world to the old, fleets of treasure-laden galleons setting forth twice yearly for Spanish ports. Today Cartagena is an active seaport on the Caribbean, one of South America's northernmost points of contact with the teeming North American continent, and a port of call for many trans-oceanic liners which pass here en route from the four corners of the world through the Panama canal.

Colorful and Turbulent.

The life of Cartagena has been more colorful and more turbulent than that of any city in the Americas. The early Spanish conquistadores discovered the harbor and decided to establish a city there, through which the Spanish fleet might maintain contact with the rich new world over which their domain was rapidly becoming established. But the native Indians thought otherwise, and it was only with the greatest difficulty that they were subdued. On January 21, 1533, the first stone of the new city was laid by Pedro de Heredia in the name of Spain. Thereupon, its fortresses and towers rose quickly, at a reported expense of $90,000,000 and thousands upon thousands of lives, perhaps the costliest city in men and money since the building of Rome or Athens.

Your guide points out that, like Carthage of old, it withstood many a mighty siege and was the site of the greatest battles of those times. And like Carthage of old, Cartagena fell before invading conquerors.

During the period 1541 to 1515, Cartagena was attacked eight times, by pirates and buccannars, among them the Englishman Drake and his countryman Hawkins. These succeeded in capturing the city, held it for a short period and abandoned it with booty valued at more than half a million dollars. French adventurers also succeeded in capturing the city after strenuous siege, and departed with even greater treasure.

In spite of temporary capture, Cartagena continued to remain Spanish, for, although some of the besiegers were successful, their stay was only long enough to plunder and sack, to accumulate portable wealth to the capacity of their marauding ships.

There are two entrances to the harbor of Cartagena, one of which was artificially closed by the Spaniards in the early days. Today, as you sail into the "Boca Chica" entrance, you view the city's mighty walls arising from the edge of the sea, walls 40 feet high and 50 to 60 feet thick. These walls, in the building of which 600,000 slaves are said to have lived, labored and died, are honey-combed with prison cells which are today given over to occupancy by the city's poor.

In them, many a happy carefree family resides with no thought of the tragic history which surrounds them, the stories that the walls of their homes might tell.

Tragic and Romantic.

The modern city, dignified by many evidences of its tragic and romantic history, nestles comfortably at the water side, its 80,000 inhabitants unimpaired of the historical impressions which greet the visitor.

One of the most ambitious of engineering projects is under way in the harbor, supervised by a New York engineering firm. New concrete docks are being built to accommodate the many ships which call here for cargoes of Colombian coffees which have become famous the world over for their fine flavor and aroma.

Upon entering the city, the visitor finds broad modern streets as well as the narrow roads of earlier days. Structures of steel and reinforced concrete, including the city's first skyscraper, rear their heads above quaint old balconied houses with grilles and latticed windows, ancient palaces, majestic temples and churches and stores of imposing proportions.

The artistic appeal of classic architecture and brightly colored adobe walls and tile roofs, recall olden days when impetuous adventurers and their ladies rode through the streets in gilded chairs. The bank of automobile horns on the modern pavements stimulates the inevitable thought that the progress of time brings changes in the old order. Here, indeed, today claps hands with Yesterday and the two bid you welcome.

Business Girls Had Valentine Program

The Business Girls proved themselves very resourceful on Wednesday evening of this week when two members of the program were absent on account of illness and six teachers carried a two-act program originally planned for eight. The first act consisted of a Valentine Heart program of songs of the last 50 years, with costumes suited to the various periods. Much amusement was caused by the lightning change of costume necessary for the different scenes. The second act consisted of shadow pictures of modern advertisements. Especially amusing were Listerine, Dutch Cleanser, the Gold Dust Twins, and Chase and Sanborn Coffee. Those taking part in the skits were as follows: Miss Helen Bradburn, chairman, Miss M. J. Phillips, Miss Marion Phillips, Miss Olive Marsh, Miss Marion Gallagher and Miss Betty Heybrook, pianist.

Next week the Clerks and Clerical Workers are planning to outdo the teachers if possible, and are calling their program a "Colossal Collection of Clorophylls." The week following, Miss Ruth Bell will be in charge of the clerks and the clerical workers and Miss Marion Content of the stenographers.

An unusually nice supper was served by Mrs. Norwood Brown who prepared all the weekly suppers, with Mrs. Charles Terwilliger and a committee from St. John's Church assisting. The limbering class met at the close of the program.

PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, Feb. 9.—There will be basketball games in Division Hall this evening.

The Ever Ready Club was delightfully entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Holliday, 109 West street, Tuesday evening, February 7, in honor of the tenth wedding anniversary of their daughter, Mrs. Joseph Stadt, of New York city. The members of the club literally rained in upon the surprised couple and after extending congratulations and good wishes for the years to come, an evening of jolly reminiscences was spent. Later dainty refreshments were served and then in behalf of the club, the president, Miss Mary Bishop, most beautifully expressed the sincere friendship felt for the happy pair, by reading an original poem and presenting Mrs. Stadt with a gift. At a late hour the guests left for their various homes after promising to attend Mr. and Mrs. Stadt's silver wedding in 1945. Spurred, Wins Rich
Wife on Freckles

Bucharest.—Senator Max Aschmitt, one of the wealthiest industrialists of Romania and a celebrated personality in European economics, left his country before he could find a Romanian woman to marry him.

Tired of being a bachelor, Senator Aschmitt went to other countries to find a suitable marriage partner who had no objection to his red hair and freckles.

Now he has surprised society circles in Bucharest by the announcement of his engagement to one of London's most beautiful and wealthiest women, Leonora Brooke, daughter of the duke of Sarrawak, Sir Charles Viner de Vindt Brooke. Sir Charles is the only white rajah in the world and reigns in Borneo.

OUTLIVES FIRST
BUYERS OF BRAINNew Group to Take Chance
With Memory Wizard.

London.—The man with the world's best memory has sold his head for $2,000 down and $50 a quarter until he dies.

A group of anonymous physicians associated with King's College hospital are guaranteeing the money to Datus, the memory man, so they may analyze his brain when he is dead.

They want to discover the explanation of his extraordinary powers of memory.

"They are insuring that I shall never want," said Datus, "but as long as I can keep on performing I shall never touch the money. I should like to leave it to the hospital, but if my family needs it, it will go to them."

Datus is fifty-seven, and never forgets anything he reads. He has an insatiable appetite for facts, and for a little light reading learns an almanac by heart.

Here are a few things he can recite on demand:

The name of every derby winner for the past fifty years, the jockey and the price; 20,000 dates; millions of miscellaneous facts.

Once when he was asked when did King John sign the Magna Charta Datus replied:
"King John did not sign it because he could not read or write. He merely affixed his seal and the original is in the British museum, which was opened on January 15, 1753."

This is not the first time Datus has sold his head. In 1904 four American doctors paid $50,000 for it, but he outlived them all, and his head became his own.

Kills His 8-Year-Old
Son, Wife and Himself

New York.—Archibald MacCullum, forty-eight, a cashier in the office of the P. Lorillard Tobacco company, shot and killed his wife, Elizabeth, forty-two, and their eight-year-old son, William, and then put a bullet through his own head in Elizabeth, N. J.

MacCullum left a note addressed to Sidney Kelly, auditor of the Lorillard firm, in which he confessed that he was an embezzler to the extent of $10,000 and feared discovery and imprisonment.

Roy Martin, chief of detectives of Union county, N. J., opened the letter. "The letter said he drew $14,050 from the New York Trust company account and $2,750 from a contingency fund," Chief Martin said. "The checks were made out to the Lorillard company by MacCullum, who got the required official signatures. Then he wrote in his own name as payee and cashed them. When they came back he destroyed them, thus destroying the record."

MacCullum had been employed in the New York office of the Lorillard company for 20 years.

The three MacCullums were found dead on one bed, the body of the husband and father lying across those of his wife and son. There were two bullet wounds in Mrs. MacCullum's head and two in the head of the boy. MacCullum had a bullet wound in his right temple and the pistol lay on the floor alongside the bed.

Searches Pockets; Finds
Mate Has Another Wife

Los Angeles.—Patrick James Kelly, thirty-five, was arrested, charged with bigamy, all because of the care his pretty young bride, Pauline Gallagher Kelly, gave to her household duties.

Going through his pockets before sending a suit to the cleaner, she found a slip of paper inscribed, "Mrs. Viola Kelly, Little Rock, Ark."

"Ah, Pat's mother—I'll write to her," the bride exclaimed.

But when the answer came it revealed that Mrs. Viola Kelly was not Pat's mother, but another wife he neglected to mention.

PAIN DEADENED CHEST COLDS LOOSENE WITHOUT DRUGS

Get quick relief from neuralgia pain, sciatica pain, neuritis pain, rheumatic pain, lame back, stiff neck, headache, strains and chest colds by rubbing plenty of Baume Bengue (pronounced Ben-Gay) on the spot. It doesn't blister or stain. Rub it in till it sinks down and soothes the pain or breaks up the chest cold. Take no drugs for any drug that is powerful enough to "dead" pain or loosen a chest cold may not be good for you.

But beware of imitations. Ask your druggist for Baume Bengue by name (called "Ben-Gay" in English). There are many analgesic balms, mostly cheap imitations of Baume Bengue made out of synthetic drugs. That is why they are cheap. That is also why they are ineffective. Insist on Ben-Gay and you will get real results.

Monument to "Forgotten President"

AT LAST a monument to Martin Van Buren, the "forgotten President," has been provided in Kinderhook, N. Y., the little village in which he was born 150 years ago. This monument, of Vermont marble, was unveiled recently in front of the Martin Van Buren high school. Van Buren's body lies in an inconspicuous grave in the Kinderhook cemetery.

States Vote Alike
Massachusetts and Rhode Island have voted alike in the last fifteen Presidential elections.

He Hears Talk That Government Expenses Must Be Pared to the Bone and Taxes Lowered—Even the Speakers Are Hit by the Depression.

They were standing on the street corner a group of men talking of the depression, which has still failed to round the corner, and one of the men remarked that when money was plentiful no one talked about mounting government expenses and higher taxes, but since money or a job was as hard to obtain as the proverbial hen's tooth people were giving more and more thought to the matter of taxes.

In other years legislative bodies only had the thought of creating more jobs for voters and raising the money by additional taxes. To all sorts of bureaus were added all sorts of trimmings for which the people have to pay. In our city government and in our school systems all sorts of fancy trimmings have been added.

Fancy trimmings cost money, but when money was plentiful no one gave it a thought. As a result these added trimmings have become an integral part of the government, and when anyone suggests trimming out with an axe the cry is raised that it can't be done without taking away necessary things needed for the betterment of the people.

One man suggested that the way to cut down government expense would be to do away with the usual method of raising taxes by a general city taxes on property by taxing every person who had a job at the rate of $2 a week for an ordinary job where the worker was earning say $25 a week, and to raise the tax slightly for those who were receiving larger salaries or wages.

If this plan was adopted said the suggestor you would soon see government expenses come toppling down for everyone who was taxed would be vitally interested to know exactly how every dollar he paid out was expended.

Another man in the group remarked that even the speaker's fees were being hit by the depression and that at the present time only sixty half barrels of beer were being consumed in Kingston. He said the figure was obtained from a prominent bootlegger.

that the equipment in use to clear highways in those days was not as efficient as it is today.

This winter has been remarkable for the fact that less than a foot of snow has so far fallen, and no trouble has been experienced in keeping the roads open to traffic.

While there was a heavy fall of snow ten years ago the fact remains that the equipment in use to clear highways in those days was not as efficient as it is today.

These days when there is a heavy fall of snow the snow removal equipment of city and county is at once placed on the job instead of waiting until the snowstorm ceases.

VICKS CUTS ANTISEPTIC COST IN HALF!

Makers of VapoRub produce new mouth-wash born in a depression... priced accordingly

WE make no extravagant claims for Vicks VapoRub Antiseptic. It is simply the best oral antiseptic Vicks Chemists could produce. And they were aided by the chemists, bacteriologists, and pharmacologists of our 16 allied organizations... in America, England, and Germany.

They examined the whole field of oral antiseptics. Some they found were too weak... a few far too strong for regular use in the mouth. Most were very good... but all much too expensive.

So they produced a balanced antiseptic... mild enough to be used day in and day out without risk to delicate membranes... strong enough to do everything an oral antiseptic can safely do.

You can use Vicks Antiseptic in the usual way for all your customary uses. And Vicks Antiseptic has this additional unique advantage... Born in a depression year, it is priced accordingly. Large 10-ounce bottle... a usual 75¢ value... for only 35¢.

All Steel Bodies

The new all-steel bodies are materially wider, almost a foot longer and consequently much roomier. The attractive instrument panel is directly in front of the driver, with a large package compartment at the right side of the instrument board. Front seats in closed cars are fully adjustable. Interior fittings are luxurious. Options in upholstery and a wide choice of body colors are available. The improved V-8 engine is fitted with all-aluminum cylinder heads, one of the most noteworthy forward steps in motor design in many years. Because aluminum dissipates heat more rapidly, the use of the aluminum cylinder heads permits higher compression pressure and results in increased speed, power, and smoothness, faster acceleration and added fuel economy. Smooth engine performance results also from the basic 8-cylinder design and the 3-point rubber mounting. Cylinder blocks are set at a 90-degree angle. The crankshaft is fully counterbalanced and the crank throws are at 90 degrees. Opposing pistons and connecting rods are even in weight. All of these features combine to place all moving parts in natural balance, resulting in exceptional smoothness of operation. The engine is fitted with down-draft carburetor, air-intake silencer and a diaphragm-type fuel pump.

Capital Prepares For Gala Inaugural Day; Elaborate Program To Keep Visitors On Go

By SIGRID ARNE.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Visitors to Washington for inauguration day are advised to come early and stay late, for, despite an urge for simplicity, this year's program promises to be more elaborate than ever.

The official program will take place March 4 from 11 a. m. to approximately 4 p. m.

100,000 Spectators Expected.

Just at 11 a. m. a closed car will send out of the White House drive carrying President Hoover and President-elect Roosevelt to the capitol, where an expected 100,000 spectators will be waiting on the east terrace to see the new President take his oath of office.

Before this climax the two central figures in the scene will visit the senate chamber where the official and diplomatic sets will be gathered to see Vice-president-elect Garner take his oath of office.

Then the group will move, just at high noon, to the outside terrace where Chief Justice Charles E. Hughes will administer the oath of office to the incoming President, who will address the throng in a speech that is traditionally concerned with the state and the nation.

10,000 in Parade.

The only remaining duty of the day for the new President will be the reviewing of the Inaugural Day parade, which is to include 10,000 individuals—military, patriotic and fraternal units, governors of states, their staffs, and 16 bands. The President's party will sit in a specially constructed stand, a reproduction of Federal Hall, New York, from which George Washington took his oath of office as the first President.

After that the crowds will find plenty to fill the hours until midnight. Fireworks are to flare into the sky from Monument Park for an Kingston: "Frisco Jenny." Another dramatic triumph for Ruth Chatterton in this story laid in the California of yesterday. As Frisco Jenny, a woman who lost father and sweetheart in the San Francisco earthquake, she rises from a common street woman to a power in politics through the aid of craft and corruption. Her son, not knowing she is his mother, is district attorney. When a political friend of Frisco Jenny threatens to tell the son who his mother is, she kills him and is tried for murder by her son. The direction is excellent, the earthquake scenes realistic, and the work of Ruth Chatterton, Louis Calhern, Donald Cook and James Murray is brilliant.

Orpheum: "Thrill of Youth" and "The Thoroughbred." June Clyde is starred in the first story of young love, and is supported by Allen Vincent. "The Thoroughbred" offers Wesley Barry after a long absence from the screen, along with Manny Dwyer.

Broadway: "20,000 Years in Sing Sing." Written by Warden Lewis Lawes of Sing Sing, this interesting panorama of prison life is replete with action as it unfolds the drama of convict living. It's the story of a tough guy, and the plot concerns his experiences in prison from the time of his entrance until his exit by way of the death house. Spencer Tracy in the role of the prisoner gives a completely convincing performance. This talkie bristles with thrills, and the acting is unusually good. Betty Davis is also in the cast as the girl in love with Spencer Tracy, and Arthur Byron and Lyle Talbot are good in featured parts.

Fashions by Eleanor Gunn

Window Shopping Is a February Preoccupation

New York—One cannot be un-mindful of crime and resort fashions, even though one is a confirmed stay-at-home. The shop windows insist on playing them up, both for the education as well as the tantalization of those who are nomadic at heart.

The costume sketched, for instance, is in cotton and wool jersey, but what of it? It is not necessary to get aboard a ship to wear it, or necessary, for that matter, exactly to duplicate it. It may be copied with something striking in wool plaid-hitting for the cotton.

These are the days of window shopping, since spring has already come to the window displays, well protected by glass. Of course, women stop to gaze at the goodies within and expect to be rewarded with something a bit sensational, knowing by experience, however, that fashions eventually quiet down. There are, for instance, the bicycle sleeves again—just another name for the big ones, of course—but while a great many dresses and some coats have full sleeves, there seems to be nothing arbitrary about wearing them. They are just there if it happens to be your pleasure to wear them.

It's much the same with the sensational gloves being shown. Those that match the hat, and are in fabrics and colors foreign to one's idea of gloves, are very tricky and striking. If you happen to be going in for tricky and striking accessories.

Checks, plaids, stripes and something new in prints, are not only promised, but are here. The prints, no matter in what colors or patterns, seem to appeal to women and have, in fact, been worn under coats recently, besides being reported at Palm Beach. Chanel recently had a showing in Paris of costumes especially designed for the Riviera season—a season corresponding to our Palm Beach one—and this was made up very largely of printed chiffons.

Evening dresses are either very crisp as in taffeta, very limp as in chiffon, very dull as in the pebbly crepes, or very shiny as in lacquered or crepe satins.

A PORT-OF-CALL COSTUME

Copyright, 1933, by Fairchild.

A smart resort costume combines a brief jacket of brown crepe-cotton with a brown jersey skirt with built-up waistline. Belt, bodice top and narrow scarf are in yellow-and-white striped silk.

In Bags, It's the Silhouette

Copyright, 1933, by Fairchild.

Here is a comprehensive group of smart handbags—the sort you will want for your spring wardrobe. Materials run the gamut from felt to leather and the silhouette is all important.

Fashion Goes "Dotty"

Nearly every summer has its dotted print, and the one for summer of 1933 will be distinguished by the fact that it is tiny and square. Silk houses have already had some success with these dotted prints in cruise and Southern resort clothes. Usually they are widely-hpread quarter-inch squares in a dark color on white, ochre, or yellow-red grounds and have a very fresh tailored look. Although black, navy and brown grounds with white dots are always included among the color combinations, the white or colored ground with the dark dot is considered newer and smarter. A favored type for resort wear has bright navy blue dots on white crinkled crepe.

DID YOU KNOW THAT

It is interesting to observe that occasionally a daytime and a dinner dress are done in the same print. These printed crepes often have dark grounds with tiny motifs that are extremely gay.

A new silhouette is suggested in a couple of brimmed hats by Reboux which are curved down at the sides in bonnet style, and creased into a point at the front.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

An Up-to-Date Frock with Short Flare Sleeve or Long Fitted Sleeve.

7682. The raised waistline governs this attractive style, and the new shaping is featured in the waist front. The back of the skirt is mounted on a short yoke, and the front is cut in wrap effect, with the right side shaped over the left. A pleasing short sleeve in flare outline is shown in the large view. This would be very appropriate were the dress intended for afternoon or theatre wear. For simple daytime occasions or for business, the long sleeve will be preferred (as shown in the small front view). A broad belt encircles the waist and is fastened in the back.

Designed in 5 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. Size 38 if made with the short sleeve will require 4 2/3 yards of 39 inch material. With long sleeve 4 3/4 yards will be required. The width of the dress at the lower edge with plait fold extended is 1 2/3 yard. Crepe, broadcloth, sheer woolen, or velvet is suggested for this style.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

COUNTY HOLSTEIN CLUB WINS STATE AWARD.

The members of the Ulster County Holstein Club have won another state-wide honor by taking first place in the New York Holstein-Friesian Association extension contest, according to Albert Kurdt, the secretary. The contest was divided into four sections. The Ulster County Club won first for herd improvement, second for calf club work through 4-H Club members, third place in membership and fourth in publicity and showing. The total points were higher than any other club in the division, which gave Ulster the first place for the grand prize. The cash premiums won by the club in this contest amounted to $55.

Last fall the Ulster County Club won first prize with a herd of dairy cattle taken to the State Fair. This, together with the annual quality auction sale of cattle put on at the fair, makes the club one of the most active in the state. A questionnaire has recently been sent to members to determine whether there was any interest in conducting a spring sale also. Plans are also under way for the annual meeting which takes place early in March.

10 BIGGEST PROBLEMS

No. 2

Keeping Pace
With The Machine

Fitting Society to a Machine Era

This is the second article in a series in which Professor William Fielding Ogburn discusses what he considers the 10 biggest problems facing America.

By WILLIAM FIELDING OGBURN
Research Director, The President's
Committee on Recent Social Trends
Written for The Associated Press

The rapid growth of machines is a characteristic of modern life. Steam, electric and gasoline power applied to machines have produced cities, railroads, factories and are changing rural life.

The automobile has aided the growth of suburbs, affected the life in villages, increased the burden of our courts, almost wrecked the railroads, consolidated churches and schools, rendered nearly negligible the boundary lines of counties, increased touring, affected hotel life, reduced the number of household servants, modified home life, changed Sunday recreation, aided criminals, and modified our manners and morals.

Social Changes Lag

But these social changes follow and do not precede the technological changes. There is a delay—a lag. The machine killed millions and maimed tens of millions before accident prevention and workmen's compensation were developed. The tin can has helped to bring woman suffrage, yet there remains the ideology that woman's place is in the home.

The automobile and the telephone have produced the metropolitan region, which is still, however, without an adequate government. The boundaries of counties were laid out in accordance with how far a horse could travel and at a time when wealth was in farms; these boundaries still persist with an antiquated government inadequate to meet their social needs in the age of cities and the automobile.

Steam took the household industries and placed them in factories and the family has never made satisfactory adjustment.

Institutions Change Slowly

It thus comes about that our great social institutions such as industry, government, the family, and the church are lagging behind the changes which have taken place in our technological development.

The changes in our society are occurring at unequal rates of speed. It is as though the parts of a watch were changing, some rapidly and others slowly, and the watch wasn't keeping good time; for society is interrelated like a watch rather than like a chain.

Public Notice of Sale of Lands in the Village of Rosendale for Unpaid Taxes to Be Held on February 24, 1933.

WHEREAS, arrears of taxes for the year 1932 charged and imposed pursuant to the laws of the State of New York, remain due and unpaid on the several tracts, lots, pieces or parcels of land situated in the Village of Rosendale, Ulster County, New York, described in the following list:

The names given below being those of the owners or occupants as the same appear on the Assessment Roll of the Village of Rosendale for the year 1932 and the amounts including taxes, fees, interest, and charges against the properties for such year, which have been determined by the time of the sale as hereinafter specified:

NOW, THEREFORE, Notice is hereby given that in pursuance of the power vested in the Village of Rosendale by the Laws of the State of New York, the Village of Rosendale, Ulster County, New York, shall on Friday, February 24th, 1933, at twelve o'clock noon at the First Main Street, in the Village of Rosendale, Ulster County, New York, sell at public auction so much of each of the said parcels or respective lots, tracts or pieces of land as shall be sufficient to pay all the taxes assessed thereon in the year 1932 that may then remain due on each thereof respectively, together with the fees, interest, costs and charges which have accrued thereon, and that may arise or accrue thereafter and shall sell and continue from day to day to sell until the said sale shall be completed.

The purchaser of any such parcel of land shall pay the amount of their respective bids to the Village Treasurer within ten days after the sale and upon such payment the Village Treasurer shall issue a certificate in writing describing the real estate purchased and the sum paid therefor.

Any purchaser who fails or refuses to pay the amount of his bid or bids within the time prescribed, the Village Treasurer may state an account against such purchaser and may recover the same with costs from such purchaser by action brought in the name of the Village Treasurer or such Village Treasurer may cancel such sale to such purchaser and the parcel or parcels so sold shall be deemed to have been purchased by the Village.

The owner of the occupant of, or any person having an interest in, any real estate sold for taxes to any individual party, may redeem the same at any time within three years after the last day of sale by paying to the Village Treasurer the amount of the purchase money and interest, together with the charges accrued at the time of such redemption and the amount of any taxes levied upon such real estate, which have been paid by such individual party subsequent to such sale, with interest on such amount at the rate of six per centum per annum from the date of such payment, and if bid in by or on behalf of the village, as provided, the said owner, occupant, or person interested in such real estate may pay the same within said three years by paying to the Village Treasurer the amount of such certificate with such interest, together with the charges accrued at the time of such redemption, as if a certificate for such sale had been issued to an individual.

Whenever a tax sale certificate issued on this sale shall be outstanding and surrendered on any date or parcel of land and shall remain unpaid and unsatisfied for three years after the issuance thereof, the holder of such tax certificate may bring an action in the Village Court, or in the County Court of Ulster County, or in the Supreme Court of the State of New York, for the enforcement of a lien of the said tax sale certificate and for the sale of the parcel or parcels so sold, as provided by the Village Law constituting Chapter Sixty-Four of the Consolidated Laws.

Upon the confirmation of such foreclosure sale by the Court and the payment of the amount bid thereon, the Village Treasurer will execute and deliver a deed of the lands so sold, to the purchaser, his heirs or assigns. The purchaser shall pay to the Village Treasurer a Deed Tax of $1.00 for the preparation and execution of said deed.

Witness my hand and the seal of the Village of Rosendale, Ulster County, New York, this 25th day of January, 1933.

Attest: William Fielding Ogburn, Research Director, The President's Committee on Recent Social Trends, New York City, N. Y.

WOMAN'S PLACE IN HOME ONLY			WOMAN'S NEW FREEDOM
CUSTOMS			TECHNOLOGY
PERIOD OF ADJUSTMENT	PERIOD OF MALADJUSTMENT	PERIOD OF ADJUSTMENT	PERIOD OF ADJUSTMENT	PERIOD OF MALADJUSTMENT	PERIOD OF ADJUSTMENT
COTTAGE INDUSTRY (NO MACHINES)			FACTORY SYSTEM ENTERS

Customs and popular beliefs lag behind the march of science and technology, giving rise to periods of maladjustment until customs are harmonized with the new developments, says Prof. William F. Ogburn, research director of the President's Committee on Recent Social Trends, shown above discussing the principle of "social lag" with Edward Stanley of The Associated Press. The chart below shows how this "lag" has affected the place of women in recent years.

A change in industry affects education, international relations, the family, the growth of cities, government.

Technology Sets Pace

Most of our social problems are due to the fact that the parts of our interrelated civilization are not changing at equal rates of speed.

Technology is playing the tune to which most of our social life and institutions are dancing.

The situation has become so bad that it has been recommended that all invention and scientific discovery be stopped until the rest of society can catch up.

Thus the men whose jobs have been taken away from them by machines would like to see all the labor-saving devices stopped.

This is the basis of the popularity of technocracy.

But the answer is not the stopping of mechanical invention, but the speeding up of social invention—unemployment insurance, city managers, marital clinics, etc. The machines are running ahead of us.

We must either slow up the changes that are coming too fast or speed up those that are coming too slowly. In most cases, especially where machines have already been put to use there is no chance to undo the work already done.

Nothing is left in such cases but to speed up the social changes.

TOMORROW: "Giant Industry and Government." The regulation of a large sphere of human affairs has been passing from two great institutions, the family and the church, to two other expanding organizations, industry and the state. An outstanding problem for the remainder of this century is what shall be the relationship of government and industry? Communism and fascism are not the only possibilities. Questions of property and the distribution of wealth are taking new forms. Professor Ogburn points out in his next article.

Yoshiyasu Kumazawa Addressed Rotarians On Japanese History

Yoshiyasu Kumazawa, executive secretary of the Japanese Chamber of Commerce of New York, brought a timely and historical message of Japan and her people to the members and guests of the Kingston Rotary club yesterday noon at the Governor Clinton Hotel. His talk, although brief, covered the interesting history of Japan during the past 75 years; years that saw Japan become thoroughly modernized and watermarked as she passed through the phases of the industrial revolution in her rise to an important world power. What is now occurring in Japan was also discussed by the speaker from a spiritual, economic and political point of view.

"Japan's history," began Mr. Kumazawa, "dates back 600 years before the birth of Christ. Today she is both an old and a new nation. In the last 75 years the old Japan of cherry blossoms and picturesque beauty one reads about has become an entirely different nation, completely modernized by western culture and progress. If one were to visit Tokio, the capital city of Japan, this fact would be apparent immediately. In your hotel room you would sleep on a bed of American make, and would walk on streets made from American cement. If you visited business offices in Tokio, you would probably find typewriters of American make being used by stenographers chewing American gum. Tokio is also filled with English signs and placards, in fact everything about the city breathes the influence of western civilization. But despite this outside culture, inwardly the peoples of Japan are still Japanese. There is a desire among the people to get back to the old Japan of yesterday."

Mr. Kumazawa went on to say that Japan like all other nations today is passing through a cycle of business stagnation. Yet the speaker made clear that one of Japan's most serious and pressing economic problems is the growing population on the islands of Japan.

"It wasn't so very long ago that Japan had a population of thirty million, but today that population has more than doubled so that there are over sixty-five million people in Japan today. When you consider that all of Japan is not as large as the state of California with most of the land mountainous, you can realize what a serious matter the growing population of Japan has become. It is easy to understand that Japan must have an outlet for her surplus population, and that is the main reason she is in Manchuria today."

Why Military Government

"Many Americans have asked me why a military government is so powerful in Japan today," continued the speaker. "There are two good reasons for this. Several years ago Japan, then a weak nation, was threatened by both China and Russia. Japan was fortunate enough to win against both nations, and it was only natural that the masses should revere and respect the militarists who had saved the nation from outside forces. The other reason for the popularity of militarism in Japan today is due to the corruption of her major political parties. These parties were seeking to benefit themselves rather than the people they served, and the people turned to the militarists when the political parties became corrupt and failed them."

"Speaking of education," continued Mr. Kumazawa, "Japan today has one of the finest educational systems in the world. Ninety-five per cent of the Japanese population are able to read and write, and they are not only interested in Japanese literature but also German, French, English and the classical languages. Everybody in Japan is reading something in books, newspapers or magazines. The desire to become educated is very much in evidence in Japan today."

"Buddhism, Christianity, Shintoism and five or six other forms form the spiritual structure of Japan today. Buddhism came from India and was introduced to Japan through China. But Japan has assimilated the Buddhism of China and has her own distinct type of Buddhism. Japan believes that as the western world has its own Christ, Japan should worship a Christ of its own."

In closing, the speaker thanked the club members and guests for the opportunity of speaking before them, following which President Joseph

Morgan complimented Mr. Kumazawa on behalf of the club for his enjoyable talk, and expressed the belief that the speaker had done much to cement the bonds of international understanding in this community.

Guests at the meeting were Charles Modjeska, C. L. Carter, Clarence Peet and Charles Carlson. The last two are members of the Boy's Club that is being sponsored by the Kingston Rotary club. They were guests of the club at dinner because of their splendid record as members of the Boy's Club.

WEST HURLEY

West Hurley, Feb. 9.—An excellent report has filtered in that the family of R. Wolven has succeeded in pulling through from a combined illness of grip and pneumonia.

At the meeting held February 6 in the West Hurley M. E. Church, Aaron Stoutenberg and Mathew Williams were re-elected to serve on the vestry.

T. DuBois bought a Ford roadster. The following day it ran over the embankment beside the post office. A protruding rock brought it to a halt and a dangerous accident was avoided.

A surprise party was tendered Mr. Reynolds at his home by Mr. and Mrs. A. Gilmore, Mr. and Mrs. Zimmerman, Miss Fischer and her father, and Mrs. Brazee and daughter, Charlotte. Mr. Reynolds has been invalided for some time and thoroughly enjoyed this bit of thoughtfulness.

O. B. King and family are to occupy the house of Hobart Rowe on John street.

Those new cigarette vending machines installed down at the Joyce's brings to mind those automatic restaurants in New York city. They work on the same principle, push a lever and the merchandise is delivered. The correspondent recalls depositing a nickel in the slot marked "Coffee", and out came two rice puddings.

Record of Repealers Augurs Flashy Contest

Manager Dick Dulin of the Morgan Repealers thinks, despite the impressive record enjoyed by the House of David, that his Kingston cake experts will give the bearded athletes one of their hardest battles of the season Friday night when the celebrated traveling club visits White Eagle Hall, Delaware avenue, to play in the feature of the basketball program there.

Dulin bases his contentions on the strength of the Repealers' ability in winning 11 games to date, defeating some of the most formidable clubs in this vicinity. They outscored the Beacon Knights of Columbus by 16 points, Saugerties High, 22-15, Rosendale Firemen, 24-12, the Highland American Legion, 40-29, and the Fleischmanns Town team, 31-18. This same Fleischmanns team defeated the Davids, 42-24, early in the season, proving that the celebrated traveling club is not invincible against a quipster like the Repealers, despite its record showing against such well known teams as the Rosendale, Brooklyn Visitation and others of the same calibre.

In overcoming the Highland American Legion the Morganmen proved themselves capable of traveling in first rank of semi-pro ball, because the Highlanders were the only brigade of basketballers heretofore to defeat the famous Detroit Clowns, a team rated with the House of David. Manager Dulin will use his regular lineup against the Davids, Norm Niles and Jimmy Merritt, high scoring forwards, are expected to keep up their good record which to date shows Niles with 155 points scored in 16 games and Merritt with 150 for 15 contests. Wes Hyatt will take care of the center position and Joe Hoffman and Joe Dulin the guard posts. Ernie Smith and Herb Mills will be ready to do relief work if necessary.

Starting time of the game is 8:30. Indications are that the hall will be packed with fans early, so those who wish good seats are advised not to be tardy in arriving. Prior to the feature there will be a game between the Happy Boys and Rensselaer A. C. starting at 7:30. There will also be entertainment and music for dancing after the contests.

Hebrews Idle As Center Girls Win, Games Next Monday

Their Ellenville opponents having failed to put in an appearance at the Downtown Jewish Community Center, Wednesday, the Hebrew-Americans were left without a game for the second time this week. Monday, Al-Jaben, scheduled to meet the men of Coach Irv Reuben, disappointed the cage fans as well as the players.

There was one game at the Center last night, however, the Hebrew-American Girls outscoring the Holy Cross Girls by the margin of 31-18 as indicated by the individual scores: Hebrew-Americans (31)—H. Kline, 7; J. Hornbeck, 5; E. Basch, 4; 10; S. Basch, 3; D. Gallop, 2; Holy Cross (18)—A. Pratt, 6; 12; M. Phinney, 6.

Score at half time, 17-10, H.-A. Girls leading. Referee, Rosenberg. Games Monday.

Battery A Quintet Defeats Middletown

Leading scorer for Kingston was Corporal J. Bradford as shown by the following list of points made:

Battery A, Kingston, (39)—Lewis, 7; Bush, 8; Zates, 8; Colvin, 4; Woineski, 2; Bradford, 10.

Bruckmen Defeat Highland Legion, To Play Delhi Five

In their weekly game at B. W. S. Hall, High Falls, Wednesday, Pete Bruck's All Stars took on the Highland American Legion for the second time this season and added another victory over the southern Ulster boys who earlier in the year distinguished themselves by outbusting the famous Detroit Clowns. Final score at last night's tilt was 42-26 in favor of the Stone Ridge representatives.

Leading the Rodgers offensive was Norm Niles, who scored 18 and 11 points respectively. "Woody" Wood, teaming up with Pete Bruck as a guard played one of his best games of the season and "Vince" Knoll, center, held the famous high scoring Jack McAuley down to three points, making the same number himself to balance things.

Tommy Murphy showed the way in the Highland attack, hooping the ball for 13 points.

Delhi Next.
Next Wednesday at B. W. S., the Bruckmen will take on the Delhi Big Five which has to its credit two wins over the Morgan Repealers, who play the House of David at White Eagle Hall, Friday. Probably the most outstanding feat of the season for the Delhi boys was their victory over the celebrated Baltimore Orioles last Monday. Having upset the colored experts of the court, the mountaineers fear nothing at the hands of the Bruckmen and hope to overwhelm them by an avalanche of points.

The result of the preliminary at B. W. S. last night was as follows: Rockness (20)—Wood, rt. 6; Scheinman, lf. 6; Anderson, c. 9; Hales, rz. 4; Short, lg. 2; Anderson, 2.

St. Mary's Girls (8)—D. Otto, lf. 4; Babe Mitchell, rt. 0; J. Long, c. 1; R. Mitchell, rg. 2; M. Henderson, lg. 1.

SPORT SLANTS

By ALAN J. GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

It is strictly the business of the United States Lawn Tennis Association if it chooses to sustain a policy of not ranking American stars—Helen Wills Moody for example—because of her absence from our national tournaments.

No sensible observer is deceived thereby into thinking that Mrs. Moody is not the world's No. 1 woman player, even though her name may not be found on the American list, but it seems somewhat foolish, almost childishly so, to have the U. S. L. T. A. formally declare that the Californian among others is "not ranked on account of insubordination."

Why not be frank about it? Why can't the association simply say "unranked nationally because of absence from home tournaments?" At least, then, the record would be clear enough to the average observer, otherwise somewhat confused by an ostrich-like proceeding.

It's All Very Strange

What constitutes sufficient data anyway?
All Mrs. Moody did last year to demonstrate her superiority on the courts was to sweep every match in which she played abroad and at home, outside the championship and other Eastern fixtures in which she did not appear.

She won the French tournament, captured her two matches in the successful defense of the Wightman Cup and romped through the Wimbledon championships again, easily disposing of Helen Jacobs in the final. These are not secrets.

Miss Jacobs returned to win the United States championship at Forest Hills and is recommended, therefore, for the No. 1 national ranking for 1932.

Neither she nor anyone else has the slightest illusion, however, that she is anything but our No. 2 woman player. She will be in the same position Mrs. Anna Harper occupied two years ago, and for the same reason.

Needs No Ballyhoo
All of which may be unimportant, since there is no real argument over the actual position Mrs. Moody holds in world tennis.

She needs no ballyhoo, no defense and hasn't the slightest idea of asking for any. Her record of not having lost so much as a single set over

Latest News from The Baseball Front

New York, Feb. 9 (AP)—While most of the major league baseball clubs apparently were content to concentrate on the contract situation, the Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals have made one of the season's most startling player trades.

The deal, announced somewhat unexpectedly last night, sent Dazzy Vance, Brooklyn's veteran fireball pitcher, and Gordon Slade, infielder, to the St. Louis Cardinals for Owen Carroll, right handed hurler who was traded to the Cards in the deal for Jim Bottomley and Jake Flowers, utility infielder whom the Dodgers sold to St. Louis in 1931.

Carnera Fights Schaaf Friday

New York, Feb. 9 (AP)—Primo Carnera, the giant goddoller of Venice, and Ernie Schaaf, the big blonde puncher from Boston, meet tomorrow night in Madison Square Garden in a bout, scheduled for 15 rounds, which has as its aim the finding of a challenger for Jack Sharkey's heavyweight championship crown in a big outdoor bout next summer.

If Schaaf wins and the plan is carried out, the fans may be treated to the interesting spectacle of witnessing a boxer fight his own manager. Sharkey owns half of Schaaf's contract and occasionally acts as his advisor during bouts.

Schaaf maintains he will win by a knockout, although even Sharkey was unable to do that. The current odds favor the Bostonian 8-5.

The ten-round semi-final brings together Adolph Heuser, German light heavyweight, and Harry Ebbs of Freeport, N. Y. A pair of five rounds bring together Marty Fox and Lou Barba. Max Schmelling's sparring partner, and Ralph Piccuello, who boxed at Woodcliff Park, and Bob Moody.

High School Varsity Trims Poughkeepsie

Kingston High School varsity won from Poughkeepsie by the narrow margin Wednesday afternoon of 26 to 23, scoring most of its points in the final quarters. Poughkeepsie seemed to have things in hand during the first two periods which found Kingston trailing in points, but stellar playing won for the locals as the game drew to a close.

The first half was marked by poor work. Little scoring was done, even though a large number of shots were taken. It just happened that neither team was lucky. As it was, Poughkeepsie did the best basket making, having eight points at the end of the period against Kingston's six.

Of course, in the opening sessions good defensive work played an important part—Poughkeepsie's proved a little better than the Maroon's. Kallach had tall men and they were capable of blocking shots more easily than the locals. They were better equipped on the offense, but Kingston's speed upset them.

In the third quarter, Kingston began to click, and before long the visitors were submerged under a nine point lead. It was because of the rapidity of the Maroon's movements and ability to take advantage of every situation, that left the Bridge City boys in the swamps. The locals intercepted many passes when Poughkeepsie was in the process of working the ball down the floor, and scores resulted—at one time six points were gained in a row.

Shaughnessy May Replace Coach Stagg

Chicago, Feb. 9 (AP)—Clark Daniel (Shag) Shaughnessy, former Minnesota grid star and now coach at Loyola of New Orleans, today was recommended as the man to replace Amos Alonzo Stagg, of the University of Chicago football field.

Shaughnessy's appointment as gridiron coach on Chicago's midway needed only the approval of the University's board of trustees at its meeting this afternoon.

Nearly 30 years Stagg's junior, Shaughnessy has held but two jobs. From 1915 to 1926, inclusive, he was athletic director and coach at Tulane. Then he transferred to Loyola at the south.

At Tulane his teams won 58 games, tied six and lost 27. Loyola squads under his tutelage won 33, tied five and lost 16.

RONDOUT A. C. JUNIORS SCORE OVER ROSENDALE

The Rondout A. C. Juniors added another victory to their list Wednesday by defeating the Rosendale Fire at Salvation Army Hall, 31-29, in an extra period of play. Maines was high scorer for the winners with 14 points. Cullen, his teammate, made 12. Krom with 8 led the losers.

Next Wednesday at Salvation Hall the Rondouts meet A. May's Planets.

You're looking on two of the greatest little fighters in modern times. Kid Chocolate, claimant of the featherweight crown, is out of it for the time being, but Tony Canzoneri, the lightweight champ, is increasing his following every time he puts on the gloves. Even the old-timers are beginning to compare Tony with Joe Gans, Benny Leonard and other giants of the past.
